SOUTH BOSTON TOBACCO

A Busy Week in the Warehouses—The Farmers in Prosperous Condition.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
SOUTH BOSTON, VA., Oct. 31.—This has been a busy week in tobacco; large quantities have been marketed. Several days' sales have been made from 9 A. M. to 4 P. M. The highest price for the week was $35.50 for a very fine wrapper. A good many parcels have ranged from $20 to per hundred.

The summing up of the week's sale has been a fraction over $8 per hundred. At this time last year it was nearly $12 per hundred.

Farmers, as a general thing, are not cast down, for they have all seen to tobacco much lower than at present.

The farmers in this section, as a class, are independent. Hogs are right plentiful, many cattle in fine condition, are for sale, and will endeavor to raise more corn, timothy and hedges, all of which grow admirably in many localities.

The country people are on "top" in this ground. They have all that is good to eat and owe but little money. One may go to the different towns along the several lines of railways that traverse the county and will find the country people bringing something to eat of every kind to all the places, where general traffic is engaged in by the merchants.

Corn is already being marketed, and in better condition than in previous years. The autumn has been the loveliest ever seen by the oldest inhabitants for the ingathering of crops of every description.

"Will I recover, doctor?" asked the woman who had fallen through a dilapidated sidewalk and sustained severe injuries.

"You will probably get judgment, made man," answered the doctor, who replied the doctor, "though you must remember that there are damage suits against the city amounting to $4,000,000 ahead of yours."—Chicago Tribune.

HORSES AND HORSEMEN

Autumn Meeting of the Washington Jockey Club.

WEALTH, BY GAM. WILKES

Alfred W. 38792—Death of Whittier.

Keswick Hunt Club Officers—Charaxus and Eolus—Other Items of Interest.

Assistant Secretary Algernon Daingerfield, of the Washington Jockey Club, whose fall meeting begins on Monday, November 16th, and closes on Saturday, December 15th, is in high feather over the prospect for the greatest meeting in the history of the association. The Benning course, where the meetings of the Washington Jockey Club are held, is right near Washington and easily reached by electric cars, while the surroundings are pleasant and the opportunity to witness good sport is fine. The steeplechase, events usually interesting to the majority, are always looked after by the Washington management, and several stakes have been closed, among them the Chevy Chase Open Steeplechase and a hunter's steeplechase. The spectacular feature of a "team steeplechase" is among the talked-of events for the autumn meeting and should prove one of its greatest attractions, as Washington is in the heart of the hunting district of Virginia, Maryland and the District of Columbia, and such well known hunt clubs as the Chevy Chase, Green Spring Valley, Eldridge, Piedmont, Warrenton, Deep Run and many other hunt clubs would most likely be among the nominators.

Wealth, 2079, the brown pacer stallion, 7, by Gambetta Wilkes, dam Magnolia, by Norfolk, owned by Colonel W. H. Chapman, of the United States Internal Revenue Service, was started against time at Memphis, Tenn., on October 23d, and reduced his record from 2:17.4 to 2:10, in the face of a strong wind, and with more favorable conditions it is thought that he would have gone at least three seconds faster. Wealth was bred by General Julian S. Carr, Durham, N. C., but foaled the property of J. F. Jordan, Greensboro, N. C., from whom he passed when scarcely more than a week old, along with his dam, to Colonel Chapman. On Tuesday last, at Memphis, Wealth started in the 2:17 class, paced, driven by Ben Walker, and got fourth money in the 2:17 pace, which was won by Daniel J. Mary Gordon second and Line of Gold third. There were seven starters. Four heats were paced, of which Line of Gold took the first, Mary Gordon the second and Daniel J. the third and fourth. Time, 2:10.4, 2:03.4, 2:09.5, 2:13.4. Wealth finished third in the second heat. At the close of the Memphis meeting Wealth was shipped home to Colonel Chapman's farm, near Gordonsville, Va., where the blood-lie, handsome brown son of Gambetta Wilkes goes into the stud.

The best prospect for a trotter in the stable of William L. Bass, at Acca Farm, is the bay colt Alfred W., 38792, three years old, bred by H. L. Asher, Lexington, Ky., and purchased at the latter's closing-out sale in October, 1902, by W. H. McEachern, Wilmington, N. C., who now owns the handsome son of Alfred G., 2:13.4, sire of the great race horse Charley Herr, 2:07. With very little handling this colt has worked fine, and right around 2:30 for Bass, and in a few weeks more I should not be surprised to see the youngster show a mile in 2:20 or better, with favorable conditions. Alfred W. has fine size along with good individuality, and is suited right for extreme speed. He is out of Cantatrice, by Wedgewood, 2:19, second dam Artifice, by Nutwood, 2:13.4, third dam Artless, by Hambleton, 10, and fourth dam Anna old Dolly Mills, the dam of Orange girl, 2:20, and of the well known stakes Ajax, Artemas, Sir Walkill, and Walkill Chief. This is stout breeding and fits the son of Alfred G. for a stock horse as well as a champion.

The chestnut stallion Whittier, 2:18.4, pacing, by Hannis, dam Maid L., by Black Hawk Eclipse, probably the best known light harness stallion bred and owned in Virginia, died recently here at the home of the owner, Robert E. Firth. An attack of paralysis rendered him helpless and he was destroyed. Whittier was purchased in April last by Mr. Firth from the estate of the late Thomas M. Hewitt, of Weyanoke, Va., who raced quite successfully for several seasons, and then placed him in the stud, where he sired the trotter Angelus, 2:12.4. The late Charles P. Stokes appears in the Trotting Register as the breeder of Whittier, but really the dam, Maid L., was sold to the Court of Appeals by Allen E. Donnan and later sold to Mr. Stokes, whose property Whittier was foaled. The latter, however, did breed Winnie D., full sister to Whittier and now owned by the late Mrs. J. H. Ginter, 2:13.4; Hulman, 2:20, and two others in the list. Winnie D. is in the Almanac stud of L. Banks Holt, Graham, N. C.

The Keswick Hunt Club, one of the best known Virginia organizations of the kind, met recently at their headquarters, near Keswick, in Albemarle county, and elected officers. Arrangements were made to increase the pack of hounds to twenty-five and to have weekly drag hunts through the season, beginning on Saturday next, the 7th instant; also to have live fox hunts once a week. The subscription list of hunting this season was responded to quite liberally. At an early date the club will hold a horse show on their grounds. The following officers were elected: President, H. E. Magruder; Vice-President, Murray Bookout; Secretary and Treasurer, B. F. McGlone; Master of Fox Hounds, Julian Adams; Board of Governors—John A. Chanler, Robert Ballentine, C. J. Ingersoll, George S. Linden Kohl, T. L. Thurman, F. M. Randolph and R. G. Whittier.

Imp. Charaxus, the dead son of Distin and Sappho, daughter of Kingston, for many years Ellerslie Stud's premier sire, and from whose loins sprung a great lot of useful race horses, was represented by three winners during the past week, one of them being the good steeplechase horse Charaxind, bay gelding, 6, recently purchased by William L. Lakeland, for $2,500. Charaxind is out of the Eolus mare Helmsind, full sister to the winners Spartan, Elktion and Paris, and a half sister to Helen Scratch, dam of the great campaigner, Brav Scot.

The blooded Eolus, the dead monarch of the Ellerslie Stud, and one of the greatest sires of any age, is breeding on through both sons and daughters. This Virginia-bred son of Imp. Leamington and Fanny Washington, passed all of his stud life on the soil of his native State, and sired many noted race horses. His sons, Russell, Knight of Ellerslie, Eolo, Bon and others are credited with a number of winners this season, while such daughters Nola, Helmsind, Ethie, Geneline, Merry Maid, Cam Belle, Ninone, Vigile, Eola and a number of others are keeping his memory green.

Among the promising two-year-olds in the stable of T. Bernard Doxall, Bullfinch Farm, are the Rocklands Farm trio Morning Breeze, chestnut filly, by Imp. Charaxus, dam Helmsind, by Eolo; black colt, by Eon, dam Calais, by Mont D'Or, and black colt, by Imp. Albert, dam Emeute, by Imp. Morning Breeze and the black colt, by Eon-Calais, were bred in the Ellerslie Stud. Helmsind is the dam of the high class steeplechase horse Charaxind, to whom Morning Breeze is a full sister.

The well known North Carolina horseman, J. D. Farrier, of Wilson, attended the trotting meeting at Lexington, Ky., and while there made several purchases of trotting bred horses at the auction sales, among them being the bay gelding Jack Carr, 8, by King Nutwood, and Chamois, a chestnut gelding, 6, by Point-to-Point. The latter is a good prospect for speed, and Mr. Farrier paid $400 for the son of Point-to-Point.

T. M. Raines, Waverly, Va., is driving on the road the promising three-year-old filly, Mary Putnam, by Judge Cox, the sire of Coxey, 2:13, dam Nelly Bly, dam of Penelope, 2:20.3.4, by Melville Chief. Later Mr. Raines thinks of having this filly developed and then placed in the brood mare ranks.

A very useful performer of the present season has been Flintlock, chestnut gelding, 4, by Knight of Ellerslie, dam Flinch, the latter a good brood mare owned by General B. Day Spillman and kept in the stud at Warrenton, Va.

At the Chinn and Forsythe sale of thoroughbred yearlings, held recently at the Worth track, Chicago, C. D. Hutzler, of this city, secured the bay gelding by Volante, dam Sweet Grace, by Iroquois, for $55.

Dr. W. Vaughan-Lloyd, V. S., has returned to the city after a visit of a couple of months to his former home and other points of interest in England. BROAD ROCK.

GOSSIP OF METROPOLIS

Municipal Vote No Test of Party Strength.

A PRINCELY GENEROSITY

Financier Bought Stock, After Drop.

By Lady He Had Advised to Invest in It—Corsets for Men Seem Assured.

By JOHN MATHOL.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—If the eyes of the country are turned toward this city the chief object to attract attention is the grand political battle for the mayoralty. It is unnecessary to predict the winner. By Wednesday the result will be known. All predictions are useless. The winner will have a narrow margin; it will not exceed five per cent. of the total vote, which means that two and a half per cent. of all the voters will decide the question of victory or defeat. In the five boroughs there is an enormous silent vote. No leader can canvass it. The silent vote—the voters which have fixed ideas, votes that are not moved by tallent campaigners or hall orators—will decide the question. There is only one thing certain and that is the Democratic vote will decide, it matters not whether it is polled with Fusion or against Fusion.

New York city citizens have come to the conclusion that municipal elections are not party matters, and are not to be determined by party vote. Hence the defeat of a Democratic candidate for the mayoralty is not an indication of party strength; but the election of a Democratic candidate when so many of his party are laid away in a Fusion movement is certainly extraordinary evidence of party strength. At the present time Democrats of unquestioned loyalty to the State and nation are giving their unqualified support against the regular Democratic organizations in the five boroughs.

The inquiry into the promotion and failure of the U. S. Shipbuilding Company is uncovering many secrets. It is put forward with all that is spectacular, and the evidence is styled "speculation." All this is rank stuff and nonsense. The placing on record for the observation of all methods which have been known to prevail, is, perhaps, information that that portion of the community which has taken no special interest in the creation of corporations. There was nothing done in floating the Shipbuilding Trust which has not been done in almost all the other corporations. A certain formula is followed by all. The weakness of the Shipbuilding enterprise, like that in ventures of like character, lay in the fact that the business behind the corporation was not properly conducted, and did not justify the arrangements into which it entered. The result was a loss in the machinery. A corporation's outfit is like a suit of clothes; it may be too large or too small or fit a business. The business outlined by the promoters of the Ship Trust did not fit snugly into the clothes prepared for it, and made in the State of New Jersey. In its ill-fitting clothing it came to grief. It made foolish arrangements, it was weakly handled and it came to grief. Rubber, Asphalt and others shared the same fate.

I am told on good authority an incident of princely generosity which makes one feel that the great financier who has not been painted with a tar brush, it seems that E. J. Berwind, the financier, advised a lady to invest in a certain block of stock. She did so. After two years the company became involved, and its shares declined, in fact, the value in them was almost wiped out. To her surprise one day she received a note from Mr. Berwind asking her to enclose her check for the stock at the figure she had paid for it. The loss was a heavy one—one which she could ill afford, and Berwind feeling a nice sense of responsibility for the advice he had given her, made good the loss and assumed the burden himself.

Mark Twain, owing to the delicate condition of his wife's health, has been compelled to leave the city and set up a home in Florence, Italy, where he will abide indefinitely, writing as the spirit moves him. The "Innocents Abroad" was Mark's first notable work, and it came to the New York Tribune, which he wrote while a member of the Plymouth Church, Brooklyn, excursion to the Holy Land. These he expended into a book, for which his publisher agreed to pay him $1,000 and a royalty. He wrote it in Washington City. At the time he had no idea that the royalty fund would run up to tens of thousands of dollars.

Experts in fashions for men have decreed that the frock coat has to come, if indeed, it has not already arrived. This was made evident a few days ago by a long and expensive advertisement in some of the newspapers, in which the benefits, beauties and advantages of the garment were set forth, and the other were fully and graphically set forth as an article of male attire. The thing seems absurd, but that is perhaps the best assurance of its success.

The city's educational bill for next year will amount to $1,000,000, and, at least, is the sum asked for to run the schools, and it will certainly be granted. In no other branch of the administration do the people get as good a return for their money, and there is no growing over the bill, big as it is. But the really is not the grand total for the schools. The Episcopal Church, for instance, supports several big schools of its own, all of which are free; while the Roman Catholics have over fifty of them, which are supported by their respective churches. The Catholic school children number upwards of sixty thousand.
